THE COURT RECORD. SUPREME COURT.

19449. Clay Township vs. Manson Head Hamilton C. C. Appeal dismissed. Opinion per curiam. This court has no power to consider a record as presenting question for decision unless it becomes authenticated as required by Section 649, Revised Statutes, 1881, and in the absence of a certificate to the transcript over the signature of the clerk and the seal of the court that the same is true, an appeal must be dismissed.

19001. John Reagan, trustee, et al. vs. The First National Bank et al. Marion S Reversed in part and affirmed in part. Jordan, J.-1. Where the officers of an insolvent company executed a chattel mortgage to secure certain creditors and in order to obtain the consent of holders of preferred stock to the execution of such mortgage gave the notes of such corporation for the face value of such stock to be assigned to the company, and included these notes among the claims secured by such mortgage, providing therein the priority of payment as between them and the other claims secured, their action in thus attempting to give preferred stockholders preference over creditors was so far fraudulent as to make the mortgage void as to the preferred stockholders, and the previsions creating priorities so far infected the whole mortgage as to make it void in its entirety, 2. Any attempt, either directly or indirectly, to give the holders of preferred stock a preference over creditors is illegal and a fraud upon the rights of the creditors. 3. Where the act of a person necessarily operates to defraud creditors or results in a fraud upon their rights, the actor will be presumed to have intended the fraud which resulted. 4. Persons who have accepted the provisions of a written instrument cannot assert its illegality as regards certain provisions and insist on the enforcement of their provisions which would be modified by holding the first illegal. 5. THE REASON WHY.

It exerts, for instance, A SOLVENT ACTION upon RENAL, HE-PATIC and VISICAL CALCULI more powerful than could be expected from a mere inspection of its chemical analysis.
